PROTEST ON BALLOT IS SERIOUS

Mott-Smith Puts Legality of Republican Filings Up to Lindsay

Attorney-General Alex. Lindsay has been formally asked to give his written opinion concerning the validity of the nomination papers filed by the Republican nominees to the Legislature from Maui. The letter of protest from Chairman M. C. Pacheco of the Democratic Territorial central committee reached the office of Secretary E. A. Mott-Smith only this morning, but the matter was taken up immediately by that official and submitted to the Attorney-General, in a communication published in part below.

At the same time the leaders of the Democratic organization state that regardless of the conclusion reached by the Attorney-General, the question will undoubtedly be carried into the courts for adjudication. Should his decision support the Democratic contention, that the nominations cannot be accepted because the nominees failed to sign, on their papers, the party with which they are affiliated, the Republicans will of course go in to court for a writ of mandamus against the Secretary of the Territory compelling him to place the candidates' names on the ballot.

Should Lindsay's opinion hold that the nomination papers were filed according to law, the Democrats will carry the matter into court as an injunction suit to keep the names off the ballot.

In his communication to the Attorney-General, the Secretary submits four queries, calling for a comprehensive opinion that may cover the entire problem of the filing of nomi-

GIANTS BEAT BOSTON, 5-2; ALL MARQUARD

TWO BOSTON PITCHERS FAIL TO STOP BATTERS

Joe Wood Will Attempt to Win His Third Game Tomorrow

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Thousands upon thousands of frenzied fans today saw Rube Marquard, who failed last year in the critical world's series, come to the front for the second time in the present series and defeat Boston by a magnificent exhibition of the pitcher's art. Score, New York 5, Boston 2.

Opposed to the "Rube" was Jake Stahl's spitball star, "Buck" O'Brien, but he broke under the strain of facing the New York batters and allowed base hits at critical moments. O'Brien was taken from the box when it was seen that he could not stop the Giant batters and Collins was sent in to succeed him.

Meyers caught the game through for New York and Cady for Boston. The New York team again played a loose, fielding game than the Bostonians, but made up for it by sharp batting rallies. Boston erred but once.

Marquard was simply unbeatable. He had the same sharp-breaking curves, fine control and terrific speed that he showed last week. The series now stands three games for Boston to two for New York. Stahl will undoubtedly send his premier pitcher, Joe Wood, into the box at Boston tomorrow to see if the youngster cannot wrest his third game from the Giants and make it four for the Red Sox.

Matthewson has been in the form this season, but unlucky, and though he worked last Saturday, he may be called upon again tomorrow.

Score:

	R	H	E
New York	5	11	2
Boston	2	7	1
Batteries—Marquard and Meyers; O'Brien, Collins and Cady.

PACIFIC MAIL LINE RUMORED SOLD ABROAD

Story of Hamburg-American Deal Gains Strength in Coast Circles

SCHWERIN IN EAST ON SECRET NEGOTIATIONS

Change Would Endanger American Flag on Many Boats Touching This Port

A change of flag and registry in the several Pacific Mail liners that make regular calls at the port of Honolulu during the course of their trans-Pacific voyage is the prediction that is being freely made by steamship men who profess to be cognizant with affairs on the coast.

That German colors will fly from the Pacific Mail steamers is a story that will not down, despite rather lukewarm denials that have followed the spreading of the report.

The Oceanic steamship Sierra, to reach the islands this morning after a pleasant five days and eighteen hours of steaming from San Francisco shed additional light upon the repeated declaration that the Hamburg-American interests were to assume control of the Pacific Mail, which would lead to further elimination of the American flag in the Pacific.

At the time the Sierra sailed from San Francisco, Vice-President and General Manager R. F. Schwerin was absent from the city and believed to be in New York where negotiations toward a sale of the Southern Pacific interests in the Pacific Mail were alleged to be progress.

The statement was made this morning that practically all lesser lights in the Pacific Maildom along the coast profess the densest ignorance concerning any possible chance of the line changing ownership and flag.

As the story goes, the Pacific Mail, which operates the Mongolia, Manchuria, Korea, Siberia, Persia, China and Nile, has been approached by a powerful syndicate including the Hamburg-American and White Star directorate, with a view of taking over the business of the company in the Pacific.

Two of the present fleet of Pacific Mailers are of British registry, the Persia and Nile flying the Union Jack, while the remaining five liners are built in American yards.

Should the story prove more than rumor, it would mean much and spell disaster to great extent to Honolulu and the Territory of Hawaii. With five great liners sailing under a foreign registry, the traveling public would be placed at a serious disadvantage with a constantly increasing tourist travel knocking at the doors of the Territory and demanding admission.

From the grave nature of the story brought to this city with the arrival of the Sierra it is more than likely that the several business organizations with headquarters in this city may take the matter up with a view of learning something definite concerning the repeated rumor of a mooted sale of Pacific Mail control.

Although the report of the sale could not be confirmed, it was said among shipping men that the Pacific

KILAUEA AGAIN ACTIVE, FIRES SLOWLY RISING

[Staff Correspondence by Wireless to Star-Bulletin]

HILO, Hawaii, Oct. 14.—Kilauea is again going into action. Whether it is the result of the war in Europe for two earthquakes shocks felt over the entire island of Hawaii yesterday morning, no one can say, but at any rate the fires that have been playing deep down in the crater are slowly rising again. The shocks yesterday were distinct and are reported to have been felt around the big island.

OFFICER TELLS OF FATAL AFFRAY

William Kekumano, policeman at Napoopoo told in circuit court this morning how he, as an officer of the law, struggled with Joseph Henriques for the possession of a rifle at that place on the night of November 14, during the fight between the Henriques family and some Japanese, and how, during his struggle, he heard the shots fired by John Gomes Henriques that killed Oyamans and wounded one of the Japanese.

Kekumano is the second important witness in the trial of John Gomes Henriques, before a jury in Judge Whitney's court on the charge of murder in the first degree. He stated that he saw the first attack of the Henriques father and son, and that a moment later he saw the white man running up the road toward him, with the Japanese in pursuit. Seeing the rifle resting against the fence nearby, Kekumano, thinking the white man were running to get the gun, grabbed it himself. When they reached him, the elder Henriques, he said, grappled with him for its possession, while the son threatened to shoot Kekumano, he averred, unless he gave it up. Despite the threat, Kekumano stated, he clung to the weapon, and a moment later he heard the reports from the shotgun carried by John Gomes Henriques.

Deputy County Attorney W. H. Heen of Hawaii, who is prosecuting the case, says that from present indications the prosecution will not complete its evidence before the end of the week. As all the witnesses are subjected to long, grilling cross-examination, and Hawaiian interpreters are required for most of them, the taking of evidence progresses very slowly. G. P. Kamao, the last witness called Friday, was recalled to the stand this morning for a brief cross-examination.

"WIRELESS" ISBELL BACK; IS MARCONI MAN

A. A. Isbell, pioneer wireless expert and well-known in Honolulu, where he worked some years ago, arrived this morning on the Sierra from the Coast, accompanied by Mrs. Isbell.

Isbell is now high in the service of the Marconi Wireless Company, and his mission to Hawaii is in connection with the establishment of a big station here and with the plans now under way for the opening of continuous trans-Pacific wireless service. Manager Balch of the Mutual Telephone Company's wireless branch, with which the Marconi system will co-operate, took Mr. Isbell in tow this morning. It is expected that the Marconi expert's work will be concluded so that he can go back to the Coast on the Sierra's return trip.

PARKER GOT WILDER TO BADGER DAVIS

"It was all Sam Parker's fault," ruefully declared Judge Wilder this morning. "Sam asked me to go down to the Republican meeting on Saturday night and Josh Geo. Davis. He told me about the time George would be up, and got me to make my excuse at the Beckley luncheon."

"So at the time given I got into a machine and went down. I began firing questions at Davis and he answered me in sharp style, until at last Prince Cupid got sore at me and commenced to demand fair play."

"After the meeting I saw the prince and asked him what was the matter with him—didn't he know that Sam Parker put me up to bothering Davis for a lark?"

MARTIAL HONOR AT FUNERAL OF MAJ. WHOLLEY

MAJOR JOHN H. WHOLLEY, U.S.A.

Military Tribute to Soldier Died Working at His Post of Duty

The funeral services of the late Major John H. Wholley will be marked by the solemn military ritual accorded the soldier dead. The casket, resting on an artillery caisson fully horsed, equipped, and manned, and escorted by the third battalion of the Second Infantry, will be conveyed from Fort Shafter to the temporary receiving place at Williams' undertaking establishment.
To the solemn music of the Second Infantry band, the funeral cortege will proceed to the city. An impressive military rite, the origin of which is lost in antiquity, is that of leading the dead officer's charger, in mourning, behind the casket. The bridle is hooded in black, and boots dangle from the empty saddle, spurs forward and toes to the rear.
The honorary pall-bearers who will follow the caisson are General M. M. Macomb, Colonel French, Lieut. Col. Campbell, Major Cheatham, Major Kennedy, Major Timberlake, Major McClure, and Captain Harris.
The funeral ceremonies will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, the cortege being formed opposite the deceased officer's quarters.

At his post literally until the hour when death called him from a life spent in his country's service, Major John H. Wholley, Second Infantry, U. S. A., commandant of Fort Shafter, was stricken with heart failure last Saturday afternoon and died within a few minutes. Death occurred shortly after four o'clock and Father Ulrich, of the Roman Catholic Mission, who had come to visit the commandant and was with him when the attack of acute heart disease came upon him, administered the rites of the church when it was apparent that the commandant was breathing his last.

For some weeks Major Wholley has been confined to his home and lately to his room by the results of a hard attack of bronchitis, which he contracted about a month after his arrival in Hawaii. From this attack he never fully recovered, and although he was able to take part in the maneuvers last May during the visit of the Inspector-General, his health declined during the summer and his strength gradually left him. Though weakened in body, the commandant never gave up work and all day Saturday he was busy with matters of post administration, receiving reports, signing documents and carrying out the many duties that devolved upon him. He was working a large part of the afternoon and was in good spirits. Major Kennedy, medical officer, called upon him and found him quite cheerful. However, it was evident that his condition was serious and Father Ulrich was sent for by Mrs. Wholley to come and visit the Major. They were talking in the Major's room when suddenly he caught his breath and said, between gasps, that he felt faint. Medical aid could do nothing for the Major, who died within a few moments.

The news of Major Wholley's death was a shock not only to army circles but to the many friends in civilian life that Major and Mrs. Wholley

PORTE DECLINES AN INTERVENTION PLAN

Turkish Army Invades Servia, Attacking Border Garrisons--Sultan Won't Yield To Humane Efforts For Peace

[Associated Press Cable]
CONSTANTINOPLE, Turkey, Oct. 14.—Despite the prevailing sentiment that the Powers should be allowed to intervene, the Porte has definitely refused to stop the war now being made by the Turkish troops. The refusal to allow intervention is taken to mean that Turkey is prepared for a long campaign and fears that intervention would mean the loss of important territory and the loss of control of other territory.

BELGRADE Servia, Oct. 14.—The forefront of an invading Turkish army has crossed the Servian frontier and begun an attack on the garrisons close to the border. The Turks are reported as forcing their way steadily into the country.

Murder Story Is Corroborated

[Associated Press Cable]
NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—On the witness stand in the police investigation case today, "Bridle" Webber, another of New York's underworld figures, told the judge and jury a story that corroborates in minute details the facts about the Rosenthal crime as related last Saturday by "Bald" Jack" Rose. Webber, who is a gambler, a former friend of Rosenthal and later a "fixer" for Rose, repeated his confession that he had paid Sam Schappo the money that the gunman went to receive from Police Lieutenant Becker for the killing of Rosenthal, and that Schappo was entrusted with the task of paying the four men who did the actual killing. Webber corroborated Rose's story as to the orders for the murder that came from the police lieutenant.

Wall Street Backed Two Men

[Associated Press Cable]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 14.—Lieutenant Governor Nichols of Ohio, testifying today before the Clapp committee investigating campaign fund contributions, declared that Thomas Fortune Ryan, New York financier and prominent Democrat, had contributed $77,000 to the pre-convention campaign of Judson Harmon, Governor of Ohio, and $35,000 to the pre-convention campaign of Oscar W. Underwood. Ryan was one of the New York "ring of financiers" who was denounced by William Jennings Bryan while the Baltimore convention was in session and who was declared to be attempting to force the nomination of either Harmon or Underwood on behalf of Wall street and other big financial interests.

Schooner Dauntless Struck

[Associated Press Cable]
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 14.—The schooner Dauntless, laden with lumber and bound from Portland to Honolulu, collided last night with the steamer St. Helen's, and was so seriously damaged that the steamer had to stand by, send a line to the sailing vessel and begin towing her to this port. The Dauntless is reported leaking badly.

Miners Entombed In Flaming Pit

[Associated Press Cable]
HOBART, Tasmania, Oct. 14.—Eighty-nine miners have been entombed in a flaming coal-pit, one of the worst horrors in the history of mining in this region.

HIGH ARMY OFFICERS HERE FOR COMING MANEUVERS

Headquarters Hum with Preparation for Attacks and Defense of Oahu

With ten newly-arrived officers, who are to act as umpires in the coming army maneuvers, temporarily attached to headquarters pending the actual field service, the executive offices of the Department of Hawaii are fairly humming with activity. The coming week promises to be about the busiest on record, and everyone will have to work at high pressure to be ready for next week's battle between the Red invaders and the Blue defenders.

Besides the Inspector General, Major George H. McManus, who will make the field inspection of the troops, nine officers from division headquarters reported to department headquarters yesterday. One other officer, Captain Bryson, who is assigned to the First Field Artillery, arrived on the transport, and will be pressed into service as an umpire during the maneuvers.

The officers who arrived on the transport yesterday and who are now assigned to department headquarters, are Major George Blakeley, C. A. C.; Major Robert H. Noble, 12th Infantry; Major Julius A. Penn, First Infantry; Captain Morton F. Smith, Captain William B. Burt, Captain Arthur M. Shipp, 20th Infantry; Captain Herbert J. Brees, Cavalry; Captain Douglas McCaskey, First Cavalry; Lieutenant Maxwell Murray, C. A. C.; Captain J. H. Bryson, First Field Artillery.

This makes a list of ten umpires available, and in addition this department will furnish Major Wm. P. Wood, Major N. F. McClure, Captain J. S. Johnson, and Captain W. H. Johnson. Lieutenant Benson, Corps of Engineers, has been assigned as an additional aide to General Macomb.

General Macomb will direct the maneuvers and act as chief umpire. Major Penn will be chief umpire with the Reds, and Major McClure chief umpire with the Blues.

Yesterday morning the small army of visiting officers gathered at department headquarters, and were given a short talk on the scope and intention of the maneuvers. From now until next Monday they will be busy preparing maps and will make several "seeing Oahu" trips in order to familiarize themselves with the terrain.

The newcomers are divided between the hotels as follows: Royal Hawaiian—Major Macomb, Major Penn, Major Noble, Young—Major Blakely, Captain Brees, Captain Smith, Captain Burt, Captain Shipp, Captain Bryson, Moana—Lieutenant Murray.

SPITZER, BLOCKADE RUNNER, DIES ABOARD FOOHNG SUEY

Hero of Russo-Japanese War Ships as Forecastle Hand from Honolulu

Famous throughout the world for his deeds of daring during the Russo-Japanese war, but unknown in Honolulu when he shipped from here as a common sailor before the mast, Louis Spitzer, noted blockade runner, died at sea on the bark Foohing Suey while that vessel was carrying a load of Hawaiian sugar around the Horn.

Spitzer was well-known to many people living in Honolulu, but none of them when he shipped, it seems recognized in him the gentleman adventurer who was probably the last of the American privateer skipper. Not until the Foohing Suey arrived at New York 136 days from Mahukona, did the news come out that an obscure blockade runner who died at sea was the daredevil Spitzer. The Foohing Suey arrived about October 6, having sailed from Mahukona on May 1, and the story of Spitzer's death has just reached those here who knew him.

LOCAL SCIENTISTS CALMLY HOLD WATCH ON EARTHQUAKE

"Here It Comes," Said Bryan, and He and Curator Stokes Feel Its Pulse

"Here comes an earthquake," said W. A. Bryan of the College of Hawaii, quite calmly yesterday morning at twelve minutes to six o'clock. "Let's have a look at it."

Professor Bryan and John F. G. Stokes, curator of the Bishop Museum, were spending Saturday night at the latter's cottage at Kailua on this island. Saturday night they had been sitting up talking about the temblors, and when Bryan, who was lying awake early yesterday, heard a rumbling and a sputtering as if some hoarse telephone was out of order deep down in the infernal regions, he knew what was coming and got ready to observe the symptoms.

They had been sleeping with their heads to the north and feet to the south and Mr. Bryan said today that the earthquake travelled along from the direction of Hawaii and Maui. The rumbling grew louder and louder and then came the earth-waves. The cottage trembled, and so did the dishes in it. However, the two scientists were too busy to tremble—
